

ESG services

For every stage of your journey

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) reporting is no longer a choice. Investors and advocacy groups have increasingly emphasized the importance of transparency in organizational footprints in recent years. Forward-looking businesses recognize the overlap between sustainable practices, brand reputation, and risk mitigation.

From getting started with ESG disclosure to implementing the right tools, Clearsulting and Sodali & Co are here to help.

How we can support you

Tackle the now with one eye on what's ahead.

ADVISORY

Assess: Evaluate performance in the context of ESG ambition to help identify key risks, opportunities, and priorities.

Strategize and implement: Develop structures and processes to focus efforts, execute initiatives, and integrate ESG considerations into business strategy and operations.

Communicate: Effectively communicate performance to stakeholders in alignment with key disclosure frameworks, increasing credibility and transparency.

TECHNOLOGY

Collect, link, and format: Find an end-to-end data collection solution that includes source system integrations, custom-built templates, and configuration—then link your data to your reports.

Train: Before and after go-live, get the support you need to hit the ground running.

Anticipate: Get the most from your data and stay ahead of financial, audit, and global statutory disclosures, backed by a team that knows reporting doesn't stop at ESG.

Where to begin

Right-size your approach to ESG.

- 1 Develop your strategy: Understand your company's mission, values, and regulatory requirements and use them to develop a pathway for improvement.
- 2 Know your risks: Identify ESG-related challenges affecting your long-term success, reputation, or legal compliance.
- 3 Engage your stakeholders: Talk to your investors, employees, customers, and communities to understand their ESG expectations and concerns.
- 4 Integrate ESG into your operations: Make ESG a daily thought. Consider how it affects supply chain management, product development, and decision-making.

Better together

Our end-to-end project support, client-first mindset, and flexibility offer a modular approach to addressing ESG-related business needs all under one roof—so you can deliver accurate, comprehensive, auditable, and replicable reports in alignment with regulator and investor expectations.
